

Community Code of Conduct

Section 1 – Purpose

John Paul College (JPC) is a coeducational ELC to Year 12 Christian Ecumenical school focused on delivering a contemporary education grounded in traditional values. We create opportunities and pathways for all students to excel, develop character and become world-ready within our culturally diverse and inclusive community.

All members of the College community are expected to uphold the College values through:

- Mutual Respect
- Integrity
- Compassion
- Excellence.

In developing this Code, the College recognises that parents ultimately want the best for their children. However, the College also expects parents to recognise that it must ultimately balance the interests of all the College's stakeholders including not only students and parents but also the College's staff and their right to a safe working environment.

All students, parents, teachers and staff have the right to be safe and feel safe in the College community. With this right comes the responsibility to be law-abiding citizens and to be accountable for actions that put at risk the safety or wellbeing of others. This Code of Conduct provides members of the JPC College Community with a clear statement as to the John Paul College's expectations relating to their conduct and with guidelines for the effective development of positive relationships within the College Community as it assists in promoting the values that are in keeping with the College's Purpose – To Educate, To Inspire, To Make A Difference.

Section 2 – Scope

To ensure such cooperation and support, this Code of Conduct outlines the College's expectations for a student's parents, stepparents, guardians, grandparents, extended family members and carers (collectively, parents and Caregivers).

Section 3 – Policy Statement

This Code does not attempt to provide a detailed and exhaustive list of what to do in every aspect of a parent's interactions with the College and the College community. Instead, it sets out general expectations. As such, this Code is intended to be practical, non-adversarial and non-legal.

Section 4 – Procedures

The following principles provide the framework for this Code of Conduct:

1. Responsible citizenship involves appropriate participation in the civic life of the College. Parents are aware of their rights and accept responsibility for protecting their rights and the rights of others.
2. Insults, disrespectful and hurtful acts are disruptive and are a direct contradiction of the College's Purpose and Values.
3. Members of the College community have a responsibility to develop and maintain an environment where conflict and difference can be addressed in a manner characterised by respect, civility and dignity.

4. Adherence to the College values of Mutual Respect, Integrity, Compassion and Excellence which underpin our learning community.

4.1 Summary

In summary, the five key expectations of parents expanded on in the following pages are as follows:

4.1.1 Support the educational ethos and values of the College

Parents are expected to visibly support the educational ethos and values of the College, and role model responsible and safe behaviours for their children and others in the community to learn from.

4.1.2 Behave respectfully towards members of our community

Parents should always behave respectfully towards the College's staff (including employees, contractors and volunteers), students and other parents.

4.1.3 Use technology and social media appropriately

Parents are expected to be respectful in their communication with others, be mindful of privacy and safety in publishing information online, and ensure confidential information is not shared without permission of the College or other students' guardians.

4.1.4 Be a responsible visitor and participant

Parents must respect the College's risk-management procedures when visiting the College and attending College activities and events off-campus.

4.1.5 Raise grievances appropriately and productively

Parents should raise genuine grievances they may have about such matters in an appropriate, constructive and respectful forum.

4.2 Support the educational ethos and values of the College

Parents are expected to support the educational ethos and values of the College, model appropriate behaviours for their children to learn from, and work with the College as it educates and provides pastoral support to all students.

Parents can support the College and be positive role models by doing, for example, the following:

1. Support the College in the development of our learning community.
2. Comply with the College's codes of conduct, policies, procedures, rules and regulations, and ensure their children do the same.
3. Respect (and show their children they respect) that the College is inclusive and welcomes students from various backgrounds/cultures and those with diverse needs.
4. Respond to College communications (e.g., by completing forms and providing permissions promptly or responding to College emails) when requested to do so by the College.
5. Encourage their children to actively participate in the life of the College, including in the classroom and the many performing arts, sporting, and other co-curricular and extra-curricular activities available (noting that some extracurricular activities will be compulsory).

6. Support the College's commitment to developing a student's initiative, independence and sense of responsibility for their own lives and actions.
7. Support the College's approach to student behavioural concerns, which can include a range of outcomes (including those that are educational, pastoral, or disciplinary in nature).
8. Be responsive to concerns raised by the College about their own child, including by being cooperative, providing information, and attending meetings when required.
9. Raise grievances directly with the College, and in a timely manner.
10. Keep the College informed about a child's needs (including but not limited to their behavioural, educational, personal and physical or mental health needs). This includes providing updated medical information, family developments and other like information as it becomes available. However, parents must also appreciate that while the College will consider any current information, and comply with its legal obligations, the College cannot necessarily accommodate every need.
11. Keep the College informed about a child's parenting arrangements, including any court orders that may be in place. However, parents should not involve the College in parenting disputes, or expect the College to act as the go-between for estranged parents.
12. Recognise the damage that gossip can do within a College community, and avoid unconstructive commentary (including criticism, uninformed rumour or speculation) with other parents or students, including on social media.

Parents are expected to be role models for responsible and safe behaviours. This includes ensuring the health and safety of all members of our College community (including staff, students, parents and alumni) and the wider community. Parents are expected to ensure that other individuals involved in their child's life, such as other relatives and carers, also comply with this Code.

4.3 Behave respectfully towards members of our community

The College expects parents to always behave respectfully towards other members of the College community. This applies to words used and to tone and body language and similar expectations are embedded in the College's codes of conduct for staff and students.

"Respect" is intentionally a broad concept. The following is a non-exhaustive list of behaviours that are not respectful:

1. Rude or insulting behaviour, including passive-aggressive, intimidating or derogatory language.
2. Bullying, intimidation, discrimination, sexual harassment, victimisation and child abuse. Please note that in addition to being a breach of this Code, such behaviour may also be unlawful.
3. Actual or threatened aggression (verbal or non-verbal) or violence.
4. Behaviour that causes a risk to a person's health and wellbeing.
5. Defamatory or disrespectful comments.
6. Gossip, rumour and innuendo.
7. Raising one's voice, or using offensive language or actions, while communicating.
8. Age-inappropriate language when communicating with or about children.
9. Vexatious complaints.

4.4 Use technology and social media appropriately

The expectations set out in this Code can also apply to the way a parent uses technology and behaves online.

For example, parents should:

1. Respect a staff member's professional and personal boundaries by not using their personal online presence to raise College matters (or otherwise engage in disrespectful behaviour).
2. Not take photos, videos or other recordings of a staff member or parent without their consent, or of a student without their parent's consent, and not publish information (including personal details, contact information, images and recordings) concerning a staff member, parent, student, or other member of the College community online without express consent.
3. Avoid publishing information that may bring the College (or any of its staff, students, parents, and other members of the College community) into disrepute. This may include an image or recording that shows a student in College uniform, a member of the College community at the College or a College activity or event, behaving inappropriately.
4. Not communicate with students from another family outside of the College, including by email or on social media, without prior consent from that student's parent(s).
5. Not discuss confidential or sensitive College matters, including in relation to grievances about a particular staff member or student, online.
6. Obtain express permission to use the College's name or insignia in the title of any online website, forum or group, or printed or online publication. In addition, no suggestion should be made that any such platform or material is operated or sanctioned by the College.

4.5 Be a responsible visitor and participant

Parents must respect the College's risk-management procedures when visiting the College. Parents should only enter a classroom or other student environment when invited to do so by a staff member. This requirement does not apply when visiting the College only to:

1. Attend an activity or event to which all members of the College community have been invited.
2. Visit the College Retail Centre.
3. Drop-off or collect a child from the College.

When visiting the College, or attending College activities and events, parents should model appropriate and respectful behaviours, and uphold the College's values. This includes:

1. Demonstrating good sporting conduct and fair play when attending the College's sporting events and activities, as well as any other performing arts and community activities.
2. Complying with applicable occupation, student and workplace health and safety and risk-management procedures.
3. Complying with any reasonable directions given by the College's staff.
4. Showing appropriate care and regard for the property of the College and others. Any damage should be promptly reported to the College.
5. Dressing appropriately for the occasion.
6. Not being under the influence of drugs or alcohol (and otherwise not engaging in the possession, sale or supply of the same at the College).

7. Behaving lawfully on College grounds whether at events hosted by or connected to the College, whether conducted on-campus or otherwise.
8. Ensuring that physical contact with students is appropriate given the age of, and relationship with, the student.
9. Respecting the College's property and the property of other members of the College community (including staff, students and parents).

When dropping off and picking up students from the College, parents are expected to ensure the health and safety of all members of our College community, as well as the wider community, at all times.

Parents must comply with all traffic rules and any College traffic management system in place. This includes adhering to applicable speed limits, observing all traffic signs, limiting the use of car horns (unless indicating imminent danger), and parking appropriately and safely.

Any parent who invites another person (other than a staff member or student) to be present at any College-related function or activity is responsible for that person and must ensure that they act at all times in a manner consistent with this code.

When engaging in co-curricular activities parents should:

1. turn defeat into victory by helping students work towards performance improvement and good sportsmanship. Parents are to refrain from ridiculing or yelling at a person for making a mistake or for losing a game, match or competition;
2. Promote that students learn best by example. Parents are to applaud the good performance of all participants not just that of their own children;
3. respect the rights, dignity and worth of every student regardless of their gender, ability, cultural background or religion;
4. not publicly question the referee's or official's judgement and never their honesty;
5. support all efforts to remove verbal and physical abuse from co-curricular activities;
6. recognise the value and importance of volunteer coaches, managers and officials who give their time and resources to provide recreational activities for all students; and
7. not approach a referee, coach or official at any stage during or immediately after an event, except in appreciation. Parents should respect their decisions and teach participants to do likewise.

The College is supported by several Committees including the Parents of JPC Committee and a Terms of Reference is available in JPCconnect.

4.6 Raise grievances appropriately and productively

The College is committed to the education and wellbeing of each student. It is therefore critical that parents raise genuine grievances they may have about such matters in an appropriate, constructive and respectful forum.

The College's grievance-management procedures are set out in a Grievances Policy (Community) and related policies for staff and students. These policies set out how concerns and grievances may be raised with the College; who they should be raised with; and how the College will deal with these in a respectful and timely manner.

Parents with grievances should consult the Grievances Policy (Community). However, in general:

1. Parents should take care with volume, tone and vocabulary when communicating with another family's child.
2. Parents should not communicate with another student about an issue concerning their own child. In particular, parents should refrain from any attempt to discipline a student who is not their child, unless they are attempting to restrain a student from causing a risk to themselves or others.
3. Parents should raise their grievances with their child's teacher in the first instance. More serious concerns or grievances, including where a parent is dissatisfied with a teacher's response to a grievance, may be raised with the appropriate member of the College (as set out in the policy).
4. Parents should arrange a face-to-face meeting to discuss their grievances, rather than relying on email or other written communications.
5. Parents should identify their grievances, and what they would practically like to see happen. If there is more than one issue or problem, parents should write a list so that they are adequately prepared and then decide which issue or problem matters most.
6. Parents should appreciate that while the College is committed to dealing with their grievances in a timely manner, it will not always be practicable for staff to provide an immediate acknowledgement or response (particularly where a concern or grievance is sent by email).
7. Parents should respect that the College employs experienced educators and other professionals who are well-trained in making academic, disciplinary, extracurricular, pastoral and wellbeing decisions every day. Please understand that while the College will always take into account the interests of the parent's child, the College must ultimately make decisions that take into account the interests of all students (and others who may be affected by the College's decisions).
8. Parents should recognise that just as the College will seek to respect each student's privacy, the College will also respect the privacy of other members of the College community. This means there are limits to what information the College will share with a parent when issues arise. This does not mean that the College is not taking an issue or situation seriously, or hiding information from a parent.
9. If a parent is not satisfied with the College's response to a grievance, a College policy may provide a parent with a right to request an internal review of the College's decision. Alternatively, an external body, court or tribunal may be able to deal with the issue. The College respects a parent's right to invoke any formal grievance-resolution procedures which may exist. The College strongly encourages parents to engage in constructive processes that may resolve their grievances and requires that parents refrain from publicly airing their grievances about the College (and in particular about staff or students) on social media.

4.7 Consequences for breach of this Code

The Principal will have absolute discretion in deciding how to best respond to concerns about a parent's compliance with the Code.

Where the Principal considers that a parent has breached this Code, the Principal may implement one or more of the following consequences (and not necessarily in any particular order):

1. A request that the relevant conduct immediately cease.
2. A written warning.
3. A parent (or another relevant person) being banned from the College grounds, either for a particular period of time or permanently.
4. A parent (or another relevant person) being excluded from College activities or events.

5. A requirement that a parent (or another relevant person) only communicate with a nominated College representative.
6. Termination of the enrolment of a parent's child(s).

Staff and volunteers are empowered to take steps to protect their own health and wellbeing. If they feel that a parent is being inappropriate, they are encouraged to indicate this and ask that it stop. If it does not, or if a staff member feels that a parent's actions are posing a risk to their or someone else's health and wellbeing, they are empowered to remove themselves from the situation. This may include immediately concluding a meeting or phone call or demanding that a parent immediately leave the College grounds (or a College activity or event).
